Hull Special Education Parent Advisory Council

Hull SEPAC

Support: Families should never feel alone. The SEPAC understands daily struggles that families have and the need to talk through concerns.

Educate: The SEPAC provides parents with the tools, resources, and information that they need to navigate and effectively participate in the Special Education process.

Parents: The SEPAC is a volunteer parent's organization focused on helping parents of special needs children. The events and programs we offer are a direct result of parent input and feedback.

Advocate: Although we do not represent each family individually, our role is to represent the collective voice of our parents to the school district. We are heard at multiple tiers within the school district and work with and provide input to school administrators.

Community: As a result of the good work being done through the SEPAC, parents along with the Student Services Department we are able to accomplish great things.

The SEPAC is mandated organization under the current Massachusetts Special Education Regulations and is tasked with “advising the district on matters that pertain to the education and safety of students with disabilities; meeting regularly with school officials to participate in the planning, development, and evaluation of the school district's special education programs.”
