

"2011 HULL HERO HONOREES"

Ernest "Ernie" Minelli, II. Mr. Hull. He was like the Mayor of Hull, an outstanding citizen of our town. He has earned numerous titles in his many years as a resident here. Starting up the ladder of success as a young man, he went on to become an icon in his field. He donated his time, energy and equipment in building of the Hull Medical Center and Jewish Temple of Hull. But his success wasn't for him alone. He put his family and friends first, sharing and enjoying and giving. If someone needed a job or assistance he was there with a helping hand.

Jonathon Bloch: Jonathon has participated in the Drowned Hog Event for 6 consecutive years and has been the top fundraiser for those 6 years. Jonathon sponsored a local program to collect soccer balls to be shipped to Iraq for children in that war torn country. He also participates in the Veterans' Day, Memorial Day and September 11th observances. He is active in his local Temple and his School. Jonathon Block epitomizes the virtues that a Hull Hero should have.

Joe Menice: One of the original coaches at Hull High School he taught and coached thousands of Hull Kids! if you stop anyone of them on the street they all have a Mr. (Coach) Menice story. His son Peter said it best in an editorial when his father was inducted in the Hull High Athletic Hall of Fame "He is a rock, a fixture in the gym and in the town he was committed to Hull kids back when Commitment actually meant "no matter what"

Nancy Sullivan: President of the Hull High Boosters Club since 2009. A true HERO leads by example of genuine sacrifices. We all benefit from Nancy Sullivan's Leadership and Guidance as a HERO to the Boosters and the Hull Community. Her volunteerism is selfless. She wouldn't ask anyone to volunteer or perform a task she herself should not do.

Hull Lady Pirates: What a wild ride the 16th seed took us on! Everywhere you went in town the topic of conversation during the playoffs turned to the PIRATES! The Cinderella season beating Cohasset for the first time in a decade playing on the Parquet usually reserved for the Celtics to bring back the Championship trophy to Hull. Lead by Hull's own Liz Londergan named Division 4 Coach of the year. They truly are the Pride of the Peninsula.
